Pertinent Paragraphs

Considerable significance may be attached to the wholesale switching of party allegiance as exemplified by Ednah Aiken, eminent California novelist, who recently seceded from the ranks of the Democrats to join those of the supporters of Herbert Hoover. She is identified as being active among women voters of the Palo Alto community. When asked by Democratic friends why she had left the party at the present time, the novelist replied:

"Were one required to describe the ideal leader for the richest and most powerful nation on earth, one would say he must be equal to individual success, which at the call of humanitarianism or of patriotism he would be willing to sacrafice; he should have the skill to administer wealth and direct the opportunities of this country without losing sight of the simple faith of the founders who believed the individualism must serve the common good.

"And when we look for the man, we find him in Herbert Hoover."

That is a merited compliment and a thought evidently shared by untold legions of Democratic Hooverites.

Californians are indignant at the increasing numbers of "hit and run" automobile drivers who usually escape puishment. Wait till the offensive breed acquires the callousness of the Manlan, N. D., driver, who knocked an aged man into the ditch, went back to see if his victim was dead, and left him there in a semi-concious condition.

Monday will see the local schools once again ready for the open minds of the youth of the district. So much has been said on the value of education that it would seem inane to attempt addition, et us remark, however, that the trained mind is the mind that the employers are hiring these days.

Denizens of Oakland the other evening threw a party at which one lad was shot and another received a fractured skull and "minor lacerations." In the old days the contestants for a lady's favor were satisfied with a gentlemanly exchange of fisticuffs out behind the barn.

We asked a Campbell Republican if he knew all the local Democrats. He replied: "Both of them, guy, both of them."

"Three Thieves Get Terms in Jail" headed an item in a San Jose paper. This is very unusual. We mean that part about the jail terms.

Alderman John Thomas of Chicago has finally succeeded in legislating against late hour noise. Now if the gentleman can just do something to curb the popping of pistols and exploding of bombs he will have done something really worth while.

Palo Alto has passed an ordinance providing for the extermination of vicious dogs. The ordinance defines "viciousness" as the "act of jumping at and biting or attempting to bite a human being." There are, as a rule, extenuating circumstances, but the learned fathers are taking it all out on the muts.

COAST COUNTIES' ROADS MALIGNED

Another angle of interest to the new Central California Coast Counties movement has come to the writer's attention. It is of vital interest to all in this valley of heart's delight.

A tourist coming south from Portland, Oregon, was informed that on account of detours for road work it was a long way out of the route and much farther for them to travel via the Santa Clara valley and coast route to the southern part of the state. Whether this dope was given out with malicious intent or otherwise, it gives travellers the wrong impression and keeps the interested tourist from seeing one of the beauty spots of California. Such reports are unfair and can only be offset by an organized effort, such as is contemplated in the Central Coast Counties movement. The sooner the plan gets under way the sooner this unfair propaganda can be defeated.

ANTI-CRUELTY BILL WELL SUPPORTED

Interest continues to grow in connection with the anti-cruelty measure to be voted on next November, its purpose being to eliminate certain brutalities now a part of the commercialized rodeos as staged in various parts of the state. The proposed new law regulating certain events on the rodeo programs is being sponsored by the California Anti Rodeo Cruelty association, with headquarters at 2360 Ellsworth street, Berkely.

The fact that more than 200,000 signatures were affixed to the various petitions that were circulated is indicative of the widespread interest that is being taken in the matter. The interests behind the rodeos are attempting to fight the carrying of the proposed law. It is contended by them that the law would eliminate the rodeo itself, a charge that is not substantiated by a perusal of the proposed initiative, which specifies certain cruel features of an unnecessary nature.

Nor does the proposed law have any intent of interfering with the regular work of farm or ranch, although those who are fighting the measure are suggesting this to be the case. Officers of the Anti Rodeo Cruelty Association are explicit in this connection. Letters of endorsement are being received from persons in all parts of the state, many of them men and women prominent in the various walks of life.

SCOUTS STAGED CLEANUP TUES.

The scouts met last Tuesday evening for a clean up of their temporary gymnasium. Owing to the kindness of Mr. Beall, we can still use the old Bank building. After much washing and sweeping cleanliness reigned again. The first Scout parade will be next Tuesday at the Congregational Church at 7 p. m. promptly. Full uniform. The Cubs started on Thursday at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Cecil Cutting will be Cub Master again this year. Good times are ahead. Miss Mary Fablinger will be the leader of the Cubs Own on Sunday morning at 10 p. m.

Tell Him Now

If with pleasure you are viewing
Any work a man is doing,
  And you like him or you love him, tell him now.
Don't withold your approbation
Till the parson makes oration,
  As he lies with snowy lilies on his brow.
For no matter how you shout it,
He won't really care about it,
  He won't know how many teardrops you have shed
If you think some praise is due him,
Now's the time to slip it to him,
  For he can not read his tombstone when he's dead.

More than fame and more than money
Is the comment kind and sunny,
  And the hearty, warm approval of a friend;
For it gives to life a savor
And makes you stronger, braver,
  And gives you heart and spirit to the end.
If he earns your praise, bestow it;
If you like him, let him know it;
  Let the wordsof true encouragement be said.
  Let the words of true encouragement be said.
And he's underneath the clover,
  For he can not read his tombstone when he's dead.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO LOCAL ANGLERS

News of interest to local anglers is the fact that restocking of streams in Santa Cruz county has been recently undertaken by the state fish and game commission. Rainbow trout by the thousands are being planted close to the headwaters of various streams in order that the fry may not too quickly fnd their way to the sea, as is often the case when the young fish are placed in strange waters.

In addition to the Rainbow variety, 22,000 steelhead trout, matured at the Brookdale hatchery, have been distributed. This batch will be followed later by 152,000 steelhead, to be supplied by the hatchery at Sisson.

CLUB'S CONSTITUTION WEEK PROGRAM

Hal Morton was chairman Tuesday at Kiwanis luncheon and happily selected Nic Hedegard to continue his interesting talk on France and war zone conditions.

Next Tuesday is National Constitution week and the ladies are invited to the basket lunch.

This year the Campbell Kiwanis Club will celebrate "Constitution Week," from September 16-22, said Dr. W .T. Merrill, the president of the local club, today. The time is fixed to conform to the date of the signing of the Constitution, which was September 17, 1787.

Observing with the local club, will be all the other 1,670 Kiwanis clubs throughout the entire United States. One of the outstanding objectives of Kiwanis International is to promote an intelligent, agressive and servicable citizenship through a better understanding of public problems and fundamentals of government.

"All the clubs plan extensive programs for schools and communities to emphasize the need of a thorough study of the fundamental principles of this country's government," states Dr. Merrill.

"The objective under which this observance is promoted makes a strong appeal to me," says the Kiwanis president. "I expect full and faithful response from our club, so that our celebration will be worthy and worthwhile."

The club will urge all its members, as well as all citizens of the community to read the Constitution during the observance this month.It will also urge family groups, lodges and other organizations to stres the importance of understanding the Constitution.

The following is the program that is planned for the occasion:

Constitution Week

Chairman, Pres. Walt Merrill.
1.—Song, "America."
2.—Serving dinner. Kiwanis jokes and song.
3.—Short address: Meaning of Constitution Week. Pres. Walt Merrill.
4.—Citizenship policy of Kiwanis. Tac Cutting.
5.—Main address: "The Constitution."
6.—Recitation by all: "The American Creed."
7.—Song: "America the beautiful." (All standing.)

HOOVER CAMPAIGN OPENS SEPT. 22

The active campaign for the election of the entire Republican ticket in California will begin Sept. 18 on the day of the Republican convention at Sacramento.

This announcement was made today by Charles L. Neumiller, state chairman.

Following this there will be a formal opening of the drive for votes for the Hoover-Curtis ticket, Neumiller added, on Sept. 22, when the newly formed state committee meets at San Francisco for its biennial organization.

Discussing the plans for the statewide campaign of the G. O. P., Chairman Neumiller made the following statement:

"The battle to carry California for Hoover and Curtis, and for the entire Republican ticket this fall will be formally opened with the great gathering of the newly named members of the state committee in San Francisco on Sept. 22.

"The active campaign, however, will really start with the holding of the Republican convention at Sacramento on Sept. 18.

"The county committees elected at the primary held their first meeting on Tuesday throughout the state. This is the first step in the organization of the Republican party machinery which will carry this state for the Hoover-Curtis ticket and for the Republican state ticket next November.

"Following the convention at Sacramento, and the organization gathering of the committee at San Francisco four days later, the campaign machinery will be set for action, and the drive for the votes which will result in the election of Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis will be fully under way.

"The Republican party in California is united this year as never before. Its power is therefore invincible. Nothing can defeat its great purpose, which is to elect Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis, the entire Republican delegation to congress and Hiram W. Johnson as United States senator. We shall achieve that result by remaining united as a party, by thorough organization in every county, and by making the party machinery function one hundred per cent throughout the state.. Doing this, we shall carry California by the greatest majority that the party has ever rolled up in the Golden State."

YOUNG PEOPLE TO HELP RAISE FUNDS

The enthusiasm of the fine Sunday school and young peoples' societies of the Congregational Church is to be tested to the full by the new scheme of collecting arranged by Mr Bennett. The aim is $1000 in six months towards reducing the church building debt now standing at $2800. Each collector has a card and has to secure 12 contributors of five cents each for 26 weeks. Friends wide and far are asked to sympathetically read the rules and then encourage the collector by putting down their name. Mr. Bennett will be glad to arrange for a youngster to call on you if you will tell him.

Imperial Valley cantaloupe shipments this year totaled nearly 17,000 cars, or about 1500 cars more than last year, according to inspection records of the State department of agriculture.

Certificates of approval of their county-wide milk inspection service has recently been granted to Ventura, Lassen and Kern counties by G. H. Hecke, director of the State department of agriculture.

This year's session of the California State Grange will be held at Marysville, October 16 to 20, according to advices received by Director Hecke of the State department of agriculture from George Harrison, State master of the grange.

A survey of truck crops in Orange county, recently completed by the horticultural commissioner's office, showed a total of 5145 acres of fall tomatoes for eastern shipment. Growers are showing considerable concern over the weather, which, it is said, has of recent weeks been similar to that of the 1926 and 1927 seasons, when blight caused great loss to the crops.

Advance payments to grower members of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' Association totaling $4,000,000 were announced last week at the association headquarters at Fresno. The payments, running from ⅞ of a cent a pound for standard grade to 1⅜ cents on extra standards, has been determined sufficient to pay harvesting costs. Experts have estimated this year's crop at about 150,000 tons, of which two-thirds will be extra standard.

Southern California was well represented at the 1928 State Fair by seven of the counties far south, which entered elaborate booths in the exposition. The booths by these seven counties were among the most attractive seen at the fair, despite the fact that the products had to be transported hundreds of miles to enter the exposition. The seven counties, Imperial, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego and Ventura, spent $17,200 for the construction of their exhibits alone. This expenditure does not include the cost of providing the products on exhibition, transportation, or other costs.

California is looking to the sea to find new markets for her products. This is revealed in figures made public by the office of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce at San Francisco. During the first six months of 1928 exports of fresh, canned and dried fruits from this port gained 32 per cent. The first half of the year is the light period for exports, most crops maturing during the second half. How the export of California fruits has increased is well illustrated by the following figures on exports: 1925, $1,251,949; 1926, $1,536,692; 1928, first half year only, $905,944. Officials estimate this figure will be doubled in a couple of months as the harvest season advances.

Tomato growing is one of California's important industries, according to Dr. J. T. Ross, assistant professor of truck crops at the college of agriculture, University of California, who, in Circular 263 of the Agricultural Experiment Station, recently issued, points out that last year 4491 cars of fresh tomatoes were canned, and 2,166,000 cases of pulp, puree, catsup paste and like products were put up in the State. The circular is entitled "Tomato Production in California," and discusses tomato-growing districts, locations, cropping systems, varieties, growing of plants, field culture, staking and pruning, fertilizers, harvesting, shipping seasons, seed growing, diseases and insect pests, being, it is said by university authorities, the most complete treatise on the subject ever published in the State.

Picking of the cotton crop in Tulare county, which has an estimated value of $3,500,000, started about the middle of August, about three weeks earlier in most cases than was the case last season. The first bale for this section was ginned August 20 at the B. C. Britton ranch, and was said to be of excellent quality. The wage for picking has been set this year at 1 1-4 cents per pound, in "good fields and good yields," and there is no apparent shortage of labor in the county at this time.

P. T. A. MEETING TUESDAY, SEPT. 18

The members of the grammar school P. T. A. executive board are requested to meet at the grammar school at 2:30 p. m. for an important meeting. Any others interested in P. T. A. work are welcome. The work for the year will be outlined.

Quotations from Hall of Fame

"No school can afford to do without broadcasting apparatus. Wireless lessons can in no way supersede the more personal lessons of the teacher, but there is no doubt that, properly handled, the wireless leson will rapidly become indispensable."

More Porters To Tip

Now we are to have more porters to tip. Where will our expenses end? Yes, the Pickwick Stage Company is about to inaugurate a pullman service between Los Angeles and San Francisco, and next perhaps between California points and Chicago. The Pickwick people have built a de luxe motorbus, which for comfort and pleasure leaves little for their passengers to desire so they tell us. By an ingenious arrangement of the berth no space goes to waste, and it is possible to sleep twenty-eight passengers, which approaches the capacity of a pullman car. There are upper and lower berths and running water, and wash basins. And there is also a kitchen attached supplying all the comforts of a home.

The proportions of the car are imposing, but do not exceed those of the ordinary large motorstage. The coach measures 34 feet 4 inches long, 10 feet, 3 inches high and 8 feet wide. The weight is about 14,000 pouds, actually less than that of some cars now successfully operating on the highways.

Good For Old Georgia

Good for Georgia. She has done away with ugly billboards which make our highways in California anything but beautiful. Where these landscape eye-sores stood Georgia will plant ornamental trees, and shrubs. California has considered the bill-board nuisance, but it has never had the courage to abate it. There are other ways of advertising quite as effective. Last year advertisers spent $12,000,000 in radio broadcasting alone, and then there are the magazines, newspapers, and street cars, and what not.

How Fortunes Are Made

If you wish to make a colossal fortune, think up something cheap and useful, as Ingersoll, the inventor of the dollar watch, who passed on last week at the age of 69 did, and you won't have to worry about dying in an almshouse. It is the little cheap things that have founded many of our great fortunes. Ingersoll sold 79,000,000 dollar watches. Wrigley got up a tasty chewing gum package, and now he is one of the rich men of Chicago. Woolworth saw the possibilities of five cent stores selling Yankee notions, and now skyscrapers are named after him in New York. Consider the millions made out of a nickle drink like Coco Cola, and then we have as a fitting climax the wonder man Henry Ford, who has actually made billions selling and distributing a dirt cheap automobile, but a big bargain for the price you pay. No, our greatest fortunes were not amassed merchandising big Rolls-Royces, ermine cloaks, and silks and satins and precious jewels.

Henry Ford says history is bunk. We are curious to know what Henry thinks about the Einstein theory, or Spengler's great book. We can't make them out.

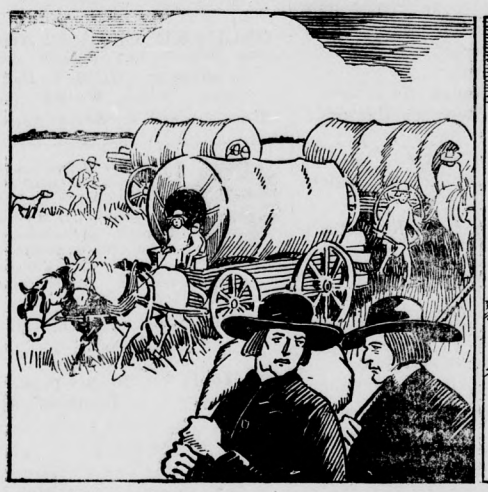
PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No 1 By Satterfield

1. Herbert Hoover's ancestors, of Quaker faith, came to America from France and Holland.

2. They became settlers first on farms in Maryland, thence moving to North Carolina and Ohio.



3. In 1853 the Hoovers migrated to Iowa, where they and their neighbors founded the town of West Branch.

4. Before clearing the land for their farms, these Quaker pioneers built a Meeting House.

Town Tales Tersely Told

The members of the Country Women's Club are again reminded that the new year begins Monday with a social afternoon. Each member is privileged to bring a guest and is urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to invite some one interested in the library or club work.

The J. D. Blaine family enjoyed a get-together week end when all of the children were at home, Miss Laura from Gilroy, Margaret from Berkeley and Mrs. A. M. Jamison and daughter from Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rodeck and little daughter were here from Gilroy over Sunday.

Mrs. Bertha Barron and children have taken an apartment in the McQueen House on Harrison St., where they are now living. Campbell friends are glad to welcome Mrs. Barron back and trust she will make this her permanent home.

Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw, who suffered from a fall in the early summer, is out again, although still "petting" her injured wrist. She enjoyed a few days visit at Carmel recently.

Mis Verna Cutting left Monday for Los Angeles, where she began her work Tuesday as domestic science instructor in the village schools.

Mrs. M. B. Jenkins, who has been occupying an apartment in her house on N. Second St., will make her home with Mrs. Ellen R. Smith.

Mr. G. R. Merriman, who suffered a badly injured foot some weeks ago, is again able to be out and was heartily welcomed Sunday by his host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ainsley and Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Lloyd and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ainsley, returned Monday evening from a pleasant vacation spent at Carmel.

James Knappen left Monday for Chico, where he is attending the teachers institute this week, prior to the opening of the Marysville school, where he will teach Spanish in the high school and junior college.

The season's pack at the J. C. Ainsley Packing Co. plant was completed Saturday and the G. W. E. Hyde and Co. are practically through. Cannery help have been leaving for the past two weeks, owing to schools opening at various times, but the grand exodus occured over the week-end.

Mrs. Lucy Smith left Saturday for Monterey, where she and her daughter, Miss Marion, will keep house together this winter.

Mrs. I. W. Snow and her mother, Mrs. Weaver, were Campbell visitors last week, calling at the J. D. Blaine home. Mr. Snow, former principal of the C. U. H. S., is now a member of the San Francisco board of education, and they are acquiring an attractive home there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sheeley, of Ben Lomond called upon several Campbell friends Thursday of last week.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. P. B. Payne, who has been quite ill as the result of a fall, is improving, although rather slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Hyde, who have been living in the S. L. Hayes house on Winchester and Rincon, have leased Miss Hattie De Puy's property at the corner of Alice Ave. and So. First St., where they will make their home.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. R. W. Kennedy Sr. 131 N. First St., Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 2:30 p. m.

Think of Shadle's for drugs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Chicago, who have been visiting in the south, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitman Sunday and Monday. They were delighted with the sights of this vicinity, and were sorry to have spent so much of their vacation south and missing this.

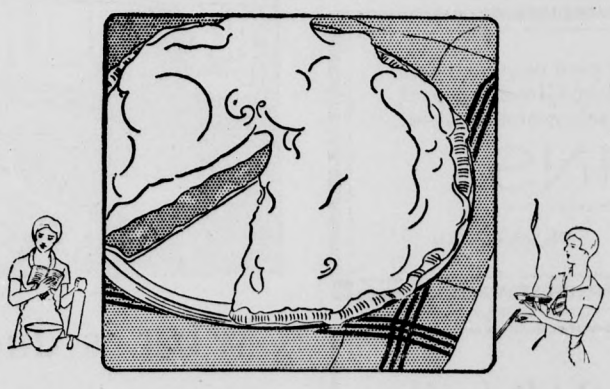
Miss Johnnie May Bragdon left this week for her home at Taft, after having spent the major part of the summer as the guest of Miss Helen Ferro.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Nichols of Pasadena spent a few days this week with the former's sister, Mrs. A. T. Cramer.

Think of Shadle's for cameras and developing.

Mrs. T. A. Cutting and sons enjoyed an outing at Big Basin recently.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Robbins left Tuesday morning for Pacific Grove, where they are attending the annual district conference of Methodist Episcopal churches.



Cooking with a modern Gas Range gives speed, cleanliness and fine baking.

With the modern Gas Ranges cooking is easier. The oven heat is automatically maintained at any desired temperature by the Oven Heat Control. You know whether your oven is "slow", "moderate" or "hot". That makes the baking of meats, pies and cakes simple. The smooth cooking surface where one boils or frys food, distributes heat evenly which means better frying. It protects the burners from food that might boil over. That makes the range itself so easy to keep clean.

How can you afford to be without a modern Gas Range with gas fuel so cheap and everyone liking good home cooking?—which you can do easily and quickly with a new Gas Range.

E. Pringle and family are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sutter.

MRS. ELIZABETH ADAMS DIED WED.

Wednesday morning the death of an early settler occured in the passing of Mrs. Elizabeth Adams.

Some months ago Mrs. Adams suffered a fall at Oakland as she was boarding a bus homeward bound, severely injuring her hip. She spent some time in the hospital and apparently improved, but in the final reckoning, the injury, combined with weakened condition continge t with advanced age, proved master.

For many years identified as an active worker in the Congregational church, Mrs. Adams is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hattie Valencia, and a grandaughter. Her husband preceded her in death about 10 years ago.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon and interment at Los Gatos cemetery.

W.C.T.U. ARRANGING SUNDAYS PROGRAM

1.—THE EARLY CRUSADE.
2.—CALL TO NEW SERVICE.
3.—THE BEGINNING OF THE END.
4.—THE NEW CRUSADE.

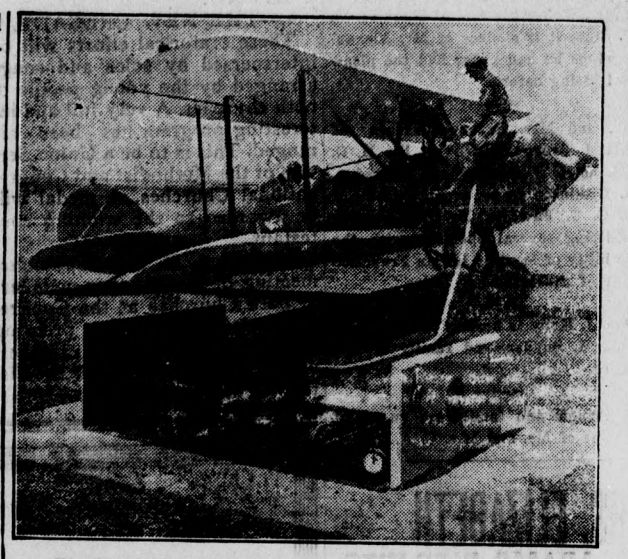
New Fueling Pit Reminiscent of Horse-trough of Yesterday

Yesterday you fueled "Charley" at the water trough; tomorrow you'll taxi your plane up the field to a deluxe underground service station.

The first system on the Pacific Coast for fueling planes from pits was recently installed at the Oakland Municipal Airport by the Associated Oil Company. In a short time all oil and gasoline trucks will be banned from the field according to Guy Turner, superintendent of the field.

The above illustration displays equipment of the servicing pit—a steel box, the top of which is set flush with the ground and sufficiently strong to support the heaviest plane.



The Airplane being fueled here belongs to Pilot "Sammy" Metzger

Housed in the pit is a metal-lined gasoline hose with nozzle control, air hose and water hose, wound on wheels and capable of serving planes within a radius of fifty feet.

One of the principal features of the pumping unit which includes a motor-driven pump with by-pass and relief valve, is the air release. It permits any air in the line to escape, thus assuring the delivery of a solid stream of gasoline through the hose. A centrifugal filter removes water or moisture, while a screen catches any dirt particles that may be in the gasoline.

According to installation engineers, this new servicing unit insures perfect delivery of gasoline, accurately checked, in any quantity, with increased speed of approximately twenty gallons a minute.

News of Interest to All

After two years' labor, a group of volumes, each covering one State institution, is rapidly nearing completion and will be placed in the State Capitol for reference, A. R. Heron, director of finance, announced recently. The books contain surveys of all State-owned lands, with photographs of each building forming a unit of the State institution to which the volume is devoted being included. Heron estimated the cost of all the work at $8000.

Consolidated Aircraft Corporation of Oakland has completed plans for a passenger service over a loop route from Oakland to Vallejo, Napa, St. Helena, Santa Rosa, Petaluma, San Rafael and Sausalito. The service, according to President J. L. Mayberry, will be in operation within 90 days.

Declaring himself as "feeling bully" Hiram W. Johnson, California's senior representative in the United States senate, celebrated his sixty-second birthday anniversary at San Francisco last week. The day was marked by a family dinner and the receipt of telegrams from all over the country felicitating Senator Johnson upon his natal day. The senator also enjoyed a swim at his club.

Marking another forward stride in commercial aviation on the Pacific Coast, announcement was made last week that giant four-motored planes carrying 35 passengers, soon will be in service between Vancouver and San Francisco. The announcement came from H. Clay Bernard, San Francisco capitalist, who was given the position a few days ago of executive vice president of the Union Air Lines, Inc. Bernard is president of a coast-wise securities institution.

Plans for a $7,000,000 reservoir and power plant on Bear Creek, a tributary of Mokelumne River, were revealed a few days ago in a request of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for a State water diversion permit. The power corporation asked the State division of water rights to authorize diversion of 200 cubic feet per second from Bear and Cold creeks, Amador County.

California has one of the lowest maternal mortality rates in the Nation, with 5.2 deaths of mothers per thousand births, Dr. Walter M. Dickie, State director of public health, announced recently. The city of Santa Ana went through the last year with no maternal deaths whatever, Dr. Dickie said, and San Jose, Santa Monica, Pasadena, San Diego, San Francisco, Fresno and Berkeley all had rates lower than that of the State as a whole.

The call of learning is supplanting the "call of the wild" now for approximately 100,000 more young Californians than ever before. So Walter Morgan, State school statistician, a few days ago estimated than in school enrollment for the fall of 1928 over that of last year. And it is the flapper rather than her baby sisters who is augmenting the new school rolls. In an effort to be "wiser than formerly, the sheiks and Shebas in constantly increasing numbers are tarrying to "go through high school."

State highway work already placed under contract this biennium, or pending immediate action, involves expenditures of $15,720,144.97, Bert B. Meek, director of public works, reported to Governor Young a few days ago. The new construction work amounts to $7,124,900.11, and the reconstruction operations total $8,595,244.86. Projects calling for disbursement of an additional $2,900,000 will be advertised between now and and the end of this month, Meek said. Approximately $1,700,000 of that total will be construction work.

Qualification of 178 candidates for California licenses as physicians and surgeons and fourteen applicants for credentials as chiropodists was announced a few days ago by Dr. Charles B. Pinkham, executive officer of the State Board of Medical Examiners. Paul P. E. Michael, graduate of McGill Medical College, Montreal, Canada, with a rank of 91 8-9 per cent, led all applicants examined by the State board at San Francisco last month. Claire E. Brownsberger, a Los Angeles girl, graduate of the College of Medical Evangelists, was second.

All departments formerly housed in buildings not owned by the State in Sacramento have been moved to quarters in State owned buildings, A. R. Heron, director of finance, informed Governor Young a few days ago. The majority of offices moved now occupy space in the North Capitol Extension building, which is practically completed. The South building, nearing completion, now houses the Department of Education and the State library. By the middle of this month quarters will have been assigned the attorney general and the Third District Court of Appeals, Heron declared.

Permission to increase its capitalization $930,000 was granted the California Water Service Company by the State Railroad Commission a few days ago. The company, which operates in twenty-five California towns, including Fresno, Bakersfield, Visalia, Chico, Redding, Willows and Petaluma, is already capitalized for $12,000,000. The new capital will be obtained by the issue of $550,000 in 5 per cent first mortgage bonds, $190,000 6 per cent accumulative preferred stock and $190,000 common stock. It will be used to finance improvements and replenish the treasury of the corporation.

An informal reception with a buffet luncheon was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Maude Marston, of Union Ave.

C. of C. Meets Monday

GRANGE HOLDS INTERESTING MEET

Mr. F. G. Myres talked on legislation at the Grange Tuesday evening. A careful study of proposed legislation pertaining to agriculture was recommended.

Farmers must wake up and vote if they expect our legislators to pay any attention to their needs; otherwise the members of our law making bodies will only consult the wishes of business men and city people.

The reapportionment proposition is coming up again at the next election, and unless country people do their duty at the polls, our state government will be wholly under the control of the cities. Vote Yes on No. 1.

Registration closes on Oct. 6

Supervisor M. C. Kimron said their plan was to improve all streets in Campbel as rapidly as possible, beginning with South Central Ave. around to the depot, which they expected to pave in a short time, following up on other cross streets as fast as means could be had for the work.

Principal D. H. Cramer talked on the proposed changes in the school laws, and thought they should be studied carefully. He favored amendment No. 6 at the coming election.

Under the head of "personal experiences" in the lecturers' hour, many different subjects were discossed. On the making of salads, some said they had no definite rule, using anything and everything that was left over. Master Barnes thought that must be where his hose supporters had gone to. Mr. Barnes also spoke of a camping experience, where they once made up their beds after dark. There was a very disagreeable smell, but they lived through 'till morning, when they found a sack of old onions had been dumped there..

Mrs. Hedegard told about fishing for abalones, and Mr. H. G. Keesling talked on hobbies, which he showed to be a sure cure for all diseases known to mankind.

What is due the public

The Bell System recognizes the public requirement for a constantly extending and improving telephone service. Last year 4 million telephones were either put in or moved. The number of local calls not completed on the first attempt was reduced by 5 per cent. The average time for handling toll and long distance calls was reduced from 2 minutes to 1½ minutes.

During the last five years the Bell System spent $1,800,000,000 on additions and improvements of its plant.

There is equally a public requirement for safety of principal and earnings of the stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company—the parent company of the Bell System. Since its incorporation in 1885 it has never missed paying a regular dividend to its stockholders, who now number more than 420,000.

The very nature of the telephone business necessitates a single interconnected system. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust. It is fundamental in the policy of the company that all earnings after regular dividends and a surplus for financial security be used to give more and better service to the public.
